

Good Day Gentlemen;

I understand that Satellite Radio is coming under attack and I just want to take a minute and register my support for what I consider to be an excellent and valuable product.

I have had Satellite Radio for nearly (2) years in my car and recently in my home. Satellite Radio provides me with a wealth of choices for entertainment, information and education. Satellite Radio programming is excellent, they really care about the product they deliver. Recent additions in the form of instant traffic and weather really increase the value of the product by giving instant real-time information when you need it.

I applaude the efforts of Satellite Radio and I hope they are allowed to become even better in the future. I get more entertainment value out of the Radio than I do Cable TV.
